

Appeal to save rock carvings

Environment
Minister Ian
Campbell
should stop the hypocrisy and ensure ancient rock carvings
on Burrup Peninsula are
heritage listed,
one of Australia's top
archaeologists
said.

Professor
John Mulvaney,
from the University of Melbourne, said
it was crazy the Government
was considering
giving up the ancient carvings for the sake of development.

Senator
Campbell is due to make a decision on the site next week.
