

More LNG exploration

A JAPANESE company that has come under fire for its preferred location to build a liquefied natural gas plant has been granted three more exploration permits.

Inpex in partnership with multinational energy company Total has acquired the extra permits in the eastern part of the Browse Basin, about 400km north-west of Broome.